Blockchain Disclaimer

We are glad that you decided to join Commun.

To increase transparency regarding our Services we want to make the following disclosures.

When you register and use Platform not only do you interact with our website but also you interact with the CyberWay Blockchain. Our Platform is just a client for the CyberWay Blockchain that Commun does not have control of. Can find more information in our Whitepaper and Terms of Use.

When creating an account and using our Platform, your data (including your personal information) will be stored and processed by the CyberWay blockchain to which our Platform is linked. However, we do not have control over the blockchain, and this means that third parties may connect to the blockchain and access your data. Lastly, you will not be able to exercise any of the privacy rights regarding your data (e.g., the right to delete the information about you) when you use the CyberWay Blockchain via our Platform. You can get more information by reading our Privacy Policy to understand the implications of using our Platform."
